DETAILED ACTION

The Response filed on December 27, 2002 has been acknowledged.

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 8-13 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 8-10, 15, and 16 of U.S. Patent No. 6,155,666 (Sugimoto et al.) in view of US 6,252,615 (Yoshino). Even though Sugimoto et al. does not claim that the waste liquid accommodating substance is formed in a U-shaped configuration, it would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide

Art Unit: 2863

Sugimoto et al. with a U-shaped waste liquid accommodating substance as disclosed by Yoshino (Fig. 8) for the purpose of separating liquid ink from liquid waste.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed on December 27, 2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

With respect to the obvious-type double patenting rejection, Applicants argue that none of the independent claims 1, 8-10, 15, and 16 of Sugimoto are seen to disclose the foregoing features of independent claim 8. Claim 8 of the present invention does not introduce waste liquids to a waste tank, but instead introduce them to a first and second portion of a waste liquid accumulation substance.

Examiner's position is that claim 1 of Sugimoto discloses introducing waste liquids to a first and second portions of a waste liquid accumulation substance (column 59, lines 5-8, 16-19).

Applicants further argue that claim 8 of the present invention does not claim that the first and second portions of the waste liquid accommodating substance are separated by a boundary at which ink and liquid contact each other as disclosed in claim 1 of Sugimoto. Examiner's position is that claim 8 of the present invention claims that the first and second portions of the waste liquid accommodating substance (first portion of waste liquid accommodating substance containing waste ink, lines 7-9, and second portion of waste liquid accommodating substance containing waste liquid, lines 10-13) are separated (line 11) by a boundary at which ink and liquid contact each other (boundary in substance where waste ink and liquid will eventually meet when substance is full of waste).

Applicants further argue that claim 1 of Sugimoto is different in scope than claim 8 of the present invention since claim 1 of Sugimoto includes insoluble and coagulated ink, an ink receiver, liquid receiver, and a waste tank, none of which are seen to be claimed in claim 8 of the present invention.

Examiner's position is that claim 8 of the present invention claims insoluble and coagulated ink (setting of ink, line 2), an ink receiver (means for performing recovery operations from ink port, lines 6-7), liquid receiver (means for performing recovery operation from liquid port, lines 10-11), and a waste tank (waste containing portion of waste liquid accommodating substance, line 5).

Applicants further argue that the claims of Sugimoto are not seen to contain such a combination as that of claim 13 of the present invention.

Examiner's position is similar to the discussion above with respect to claim 8 of the present invention. Thus, the claims of Sugimoto contain such a combination as that of claim 13 of the present invention.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
